Confession Claimed Of Theft of Chickens

Light was shed Tuesday on the mystery surrounding the robbery of chickens from the coop of A. H. Silva, 944 Chestnut St., on Feb. 10 when Ira E. Perkins, 39, 200-pound red-haired carpenter and cement worker, confessed, Police Chief C. L. Collins said, to having stolen approximately a dozen on that date. Perkins also confessed other robberies in the Palo Alto area, Collins said.

Perkins made his asserted confession to Redwod City police after

Jobholders Told Of Manville Firm

In a report to jobholders, which coincides with the annual report to stockholders, Johns-Manville opened up its books to employes this week in a simply-worded, illustrated financial report for 1937.

This report to jobholders, made by Pres. Lewis H. Brown and released here by Manager E. S. Hurrell of the Johns-Manville Redwood City factory interprets in every-day terms the financial standing of the company with details seldom made public in American industry.

In addition to information of a strictly financial nature, there is a brief history of the company, which traces its growth from a family-owned business to its present widespread ownership of 7138 stockholders.

This reveals that shortly after the death of Thomas F. Manville president and one of the founders, the son, Thomas F. (Tommy) Manville Jr., disposed of the large holdings which he had inherited from his father, thus ending all connection with the company.

H. E. Manville, now chairman of the executive committee and a veteran of 48 years service with the company, is the only member of the Manville family who retains an active interest in the business.

Brown reports that his company employed an average of 11,242 regular jobholders throughout the year, 15 per cent more than in the peak year of 1929.

The company paid out $20,354,000 in salaries and wages, he said, pointing out that this was "26 per cent more than in 1936."

"Our salesmen," Mr. Brown told the employes, "brought in 23 per cent more dollars than in 1936, the net sales for 1937 amounting to $60,173,000."

Much of this increased income was passed on to the Johns-Manville jobholders, the president's report shows.

London and Birmingham are the only English cities which have a million inhabitants.

Edward T. Harrison Marries in Honolulu

The marriage of Edward T. Harrison, former Redwood City and Woodside resident, in Honolulu Tuesday to Mrs. Mary Carkener of Kansas City was revealed to relatives and friends of Harrison here today.

Harrison, former Redwood City Chamber of Commerce president, until his resignation a year ago was vice president and cashier of the First National Bank. He left for Honolulu last April to make his home. He now is associated with the Bishop National Bank.

Relatives understood that Harrison met Mrs. Carkener after going to Honolulu. She has visited friends there on several occasions in the past year, and had now been there since January.

Following a honeymoon to a neighboring island, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison will make their home in Honolulu.

Harrison is the son of Mrs. Edward C. Harrison and brother of Mrs. Charles W. Cobb, Gregory Harrison and Maurice Harrison, all of San Francisco. Harrison has a daughter, Edna, who is with him in the islands.

7th Anniversary Class Initiated

Redwood City Lodge 1112, Loyal Order of Moose, initiated its seventh anniversary class Tuesday before a large attendance of members from San Jose, Salinas and San Francisco. J. Mansfield, deputy regional director, welcomed the new class, which was initiated by the local degree staff and San Francisco drill team.

Following initiation, Women of the Moose, Chapter 601, joined the men in their monthly birthday party at which a farewell was given to Mrs. Erva Walzberg, senior regent of the women's lodge, who is moving to Modesto, and Bernard Sutfin, vice dictator of the men's lodge, who is sailing Mar. 22 for Honolulu.

Plans also were made for the celebrating of the seventh anniversary Tuesday, Mar. 29.

3 Service Stations Entered in Night

MENLO PARK, Mar. 9 — Burglaries of three service stations early this morning in Menlo Park and Atherton were attributed by police to two men who drove an old coupe and used a crowbar to gain entrance.

Visited by the thieves were Joseph Duncan's station at Harvard Ave. and Robert Cain's station at College Ave. on El Camino Real in Menlo Park, and the Arlo Perry station on Almendral Ave. and El Camino Real in Atherton.

Perry told police he was awakened in his home adjoining the station about 2 o'clock by the sound of the prowlers. He flashed on a light and saw two men leave. His loss was a few pennies from the otherwise empty cash register.

Bad Check Suspect Is Still Missing

June Clark, missing member of a trio of girls arrested on a Daly City bad check charge, was still missing Monday when the case was called in Dept. 1 of the Superior court. Judge Maxwell McNutt issued a bench warrant for the young bail jumper last week but no return was made.

Judge McNutt sent Gee Toy, convicted San Mateo narcotics addict, to jail for 30 days with time off for time already served under terms of a one-year probation. Trial of Wong Sing Chang, Menlo Park, charged with peddling narcotics, was set for Mar. 16.

Tract on South Seeks Extension Of City Services

Friendly Acres tract, located just south of Redwood City on Bayshore Hwy., soon will be discussing annexation to Redwood City, it appears.

Following a meeting of representatives of that district with the city council Monday, the Friendly Acres residents agreed to sound out the 89 homeowners there on the proposal to join Redwood City in order to secure advantages of being in an incorporated city.

The subject came up when a council committee, headed by Councilman James M. Eva, gave a recommendation, as requested, on the proposal advanced by Friendly Acres people that the city take over the water system there and supply water to the area.

NO GENERAL POLICY

Eva's committee, after explaining that it was believed no general policy regarding extension of city services to outside areas could be laid down because of the diverse nature of adjacent districts, proposed four possible means of serving Friendly Acres with water:

1. Friendly Acres could deed the water system to the City of Redwood City free of charge, after which Redwood City would supply water at a price to be determined but comparable to that given other districts.

2. Redwood City would sell water wholesale to a dealer in Friendly Acres.

3. If Friendly Acres would annex to Redwood City, this city could pay about $5000 for the water system, then supply water at Redwood City rates.

4. Redwood City could buy the Friendly Acres system, now privately owned, and put the cost onto the residents there in the form of a surcharge, payable over a period of years.

UP TO DISTRICT

Eva concluded his report, made on behalf of himself, Councilmen Louis C. Christensen and Robert N. Jones and Manager C. L. Dimmitt, by saying:

"The next move, we feel, is entirely up to Friendly Acres."

B. J. Smith and A. T. Peterson, representing Friendly Acres, then discussed the advantages, disadvantages, procedure and other angles of consolidation with the council following adjournment of the regular meeting. They agreed to present the matter to the Friendly Acres residents. Both seemed to favor annexation of the district to the city, looking with favor upon the extension of police, fire, building inspection and other city services to the area.

The water system in question, owned by the Bayshore Water Co., is valued for rate purposes at $18,000, it was brought out during the discussion. No purchase price has been set, however, it was emphasized.

Italy Conditions, U. S. Contrasted

Contrasting conditions in Italy and the United States, Miss Enid Olivi, former Stanford University student who has just returned from a stay in the former country, told of the "Youth Movement in Italy" Tuesray when she appeared as a guest speaker at a student assembly at Sequoia High School. She shared the program with County Fire Warden Bert Werder, who talked on conservation of natural resources in observance of Conservation Week.

The contrast in how a student assembly would be conducted in Italy and how it would be conducted in the United States was shown by Miss Olivi, who stressed the feeling of constant strain and uneasiness apparent among the people of Italy. She described three of the youth organizations of that country, all centering about military training and discipline—the Sons of Wolf, boys from 4 to 8 years of age, who are trained with wooden guns; the Vanguard of Youth, boys from 8 to 16, who train with real guns, and the third group of boys, from 16 to 18, who learn to manipulate machine guns.

Miss Olivi pointed out also that among the hundreds of political prisoners in Italy are a large number of young people.

Werder, who was heard by another student assembly group last week also, demonstrated by means of two boxes of soil, one with trees and the other bare, what happens to the top soil in each case during a heavy rain. He showed how the top soil of the ground without trees is swept quickly away, while that of the ground with trees absorbs the moisture, storing it in the soil.

Methods of fire control used in the United States today and how information on the location of a fire is relayed to headquarters were also explained by Werder, who urged the students to be careful of cigarets, burning matches and camp fires when they went camping or hiking.

Objectives Set For This Year By T.B. Group

Skin Tests To Locate Active Cases Will Be Conducted

Continuing efforts to locate more than 400 cases of tuberculosis known to exist but to be unrecorded in San Mateo County, the San Mateo County Health and Tuberculosis Association directors Monday at San Mateo adopted a 1938 program, major items in which were:

1. Unification of all health departments (city and county) under the county health department.

2. Appropriation of $1500 to continue skin testing and X-raying of high school students in an effort to locate tuberculosis cases and to educate school children regarding the disease.

Decision to continue the skin testing program was not reached until that program had been attacked as less efficient than a direct check into families and contacts of known cases. Dr. Hartzell H. Ray pointed out that the $1500 program last year developed only 4 cases in the schools, and 16 in the family check up. Frank McConnville, principal of San Mateo High School, raised the question whether the organization were an "educational" organization or whether it should direct its efforts toward locating and isolating known cases.

START AT SEQUOIA

The $1500 appropriation was voted unanimously. According to Mrs. Ruth Close, re-elected executive secretary of the association last night, the program will require 21 nurses, 18 doctors, 18 clerks, and 6 weeks of time. Freshmen and senior groups, she said, may be tested. The tests start Mar. 21 at Sequoia Union High School and end May 6 at Pescadero High School.

Funds will be derived from the association's seal sale. Mrs. Close reported gross income of the sale to be $7946.79. Of this 25 per cent went to state and national organizations, $800 for costs of the campaign, and other amounts for administration. Net income to the association was $3753.44, she reported.

The association voted to ask 12 of the 13 city councils in the county to turn their health departments over the county department. Dr. William H. Murphy, chairman of the association's committee on health department unification, revealed he had succeeded in blocking, temporarily at least, proposed changes in the San Mateo City Health Department until the association could present its case.

EXPECT OPPOSITION

"I have talked to people in key positions and influential posts," Dr. Murphy said. "We have received encouragement, although we may expect opposition of a political nature in certain cities. We will ask the San Mateo Board of Public Health to propose a county survey to determine the costs of public health work under the present system, the potential savings and increased efficiency under the unified system."

He declared that most city health departments are inefficient, and that the health dollars are being scattered in too many directions to accomplish desired ends.

Supervisor Fred E. Beer announced that the county was considering a food ordinance which would require health certificates of all food-handling employes and establishments in unincorporated areas, but said the program could not be carried into the cities until the health departments are unified.

Dr. Murphy warned that unification by establishing a countywide health district, such as established in San Joaquin County, would probably be contrary to the county charter.

The association agreed last night that first steps toward unification should be directed toward voluntary surrender of public health work by the cities to the county.

Mrs. Close presented a statistical report covering five years, showing the number of resident deaths from tuberculosis in the county. Average figure was 64 per annum, she said. Using national figures, she estimated that there were a minimum of 639 cases in the county at the present time, of which there is record of only 221.

"Tuberculosis is an epidemic form of disease in San Mateo County," Mrs. Close declared. "It is without control."

Dr. W. F. Knorp warned that the major crisis in San Mateo County's tuberculosis program will come when all of the cases are discovered and there are insufficient facilities to isolate them.

Mrs. Culross, Former R. C. Resident, Dies

Death claimed Mrs. May Patricia Culross, 632 Gilman St., Palo Alto, former Redwood City resident, at a San Mateo hospital Tuesday after a brief illness.

Mrs. Culross, the wife of Charles L. Culross, had two brothers, Timothy and John McCarthy of San Francisco.

To San Mateo Public Library, of which she was librarian for many years, Miss Inez Mabel Crawford willed her most prized possession—an unique and highly valued book plate collection.

Miss Crawford's will was on file for probate in the superior court today. Value of the estate is not estimated. She died Feb. 25.

Named executrix is E. Gertrude Cook. Only relative is Mabel K. McClure, Los Angeles, a cousin.

Miss Crawford left in care of the executrix her personal effects, which are to be distributed according to suggestions made by the deceased in a letter.

Residue of the estate goes to Mrs. Dorothy M. Crawford, San Carlos, widow of Miss Crawford's late brother, Ralph K. Crawford.

Miss Kathleen Bartle, assistant librarian under Miss Crawford, said the book plate collection includes hundreds of book plates gathered during the past 10 or 15 years. Included are plates etched by artists now dead.

Two Pedestrians Die on Highways Over Week-end

Peninsula week-end automobile traffic claimed the lives of two pedestrians, swelling the year's total fatalities to 10, three less than a year ago.

Adolph Rodriquez and Jesus Garcia, both 38 and both Southern Pacific section hands, were struck down early Sunday at the intersection of Miller Ave. and Bayshore Hwy. in South San Francisco by an automobile driven by William Hunt Conrad. Conrad, 21, is the son of Barnaby Conrad, 1049 San Raymundo Dr., Hillsborough, and is a freshman student at Stanford. Garcia died at South San Francisco Hospital. Rodriquez was taken to Southern Pacific Hospital, San Francisco, where he was reported to be recovering.

At 6:40 p.m. Sunday, Guiseppi Manfredi, 60, Palo Alto stone mason, was struck by a car driven by Arthur E. Grounds, teacher at Park Military Academy, Menlo Park. Manfredi, who was crossing El Camino Real, was instantly killed.

Mandredi lived at 219 Addison Ave., Palo Alto. He leaves a wife, Assunta; a daughter, Mrs. Mae MacDonald of North Palo Alto, and a son, Frank, of Detroit.

Manfredi lived at 219 Addison sack of rocks for construction of a fish pond when struck by Grounds' car.

Fiesta Purchases Under Ordinance Stump Officials

County Executive E. A. Rolison announced Monday that difficulties regarding the purchasing system for the county floral fiesta would be adjusted amicably.

The difficulties were practically solved at a conference last week, he said. Only remaining difficulty is arriving at means of making emergency purchases within the requirements of county ordinances and state law.

Bruce Gibson, fiesta commission chairman, declared that it would be impossible for the commission to operate under the county purchasing ordinance.

"We can't repeal state law for the fiesta commission's purposes," Rolison pointed out. "We plan to do this thing legally and in a business-like manner. That is our only interts. We will meet the emergencies when they arise."

Rolison's chief objection was to Gibson's contention that all fiesta purchases should be considered as emergencies not to be cleared through regular channels.

He pointed to a section of the political code which reads: "The county board of supervisors shall approve no claim and the county auditor shall issue no warrant for any expenditures in excess of . . . budget appropriations."

Last year the fiesta budget bore little semblance to the final financial accounting, it was pointed out.

Reports of a row at the conference, held last Thursday, were denied by Rolison, A. C. Fensel, Supervisor Fred E. Beer and Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel E. Sullivan.

6 Now in Race For 3 Positions On City Council

Evans A. Fletcher, city councilman for the past four years, announced today that he would be a candidate at the coming election to succeed himself.

As he ended weeks of indecision regarding his candidacy by announced Wednesday he would be nomination papers at the city hall, Fletcher said that is was his present intention to seek no county office during the coming campaign, as had been rumored.

"My intention now is that I won't be a candidate for anything in the county, at least not in the near future," he declared.

Fletcher, councilman since his election in 1934 on a "New Deal" ticket with James M. Eva and Louis C. Christensen, plans to campaign independently this year, as have all candidates so far announced.

"I feel that I can work with the present council, or with anyone who might be elected," he explained.

Others who are in the campaign, which will end at the election Apr. 12, are Eva, Christensen, Harold F. Anderson, Floyd Granger and C. S. Grandi. Three places are to be filled.

Dinner Planned Here for State Commissioners

Plans were completed and announced Tuesday for welcoming members of the State Highway Commission and their staff to Redwood City Mar. 30 to discuss the proposal to widen El Camino Real from Redwood City to Palo Alto immediately.

The commission members, together with members of their engineering, finance and legal staff, will be honored first at dinner at Cafe de Paris. Some 60 city and county officials in Redwood City, Atherton and Menlo Park and other invited guests including state legislators will attend the dinner, together with members of the Redwood City Lions Club, sponsors of the meeting, according to the arrangements committee, composed of Henry Witte, Wayne R. Millington, Duncan Reynard and Paul A. McCarthy. Instrumental music is planned at the dinner.

Following the dinner, an opportunity will be afforded property owners and others interested in the early completion of El Camino Real to present their case to the highway commission at a session, scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock, in the Firehouse Auditorium on Middlefield Rd.

At least a quorum of the highway commission, including Chairman H. R. Judah, Santa Cruz publisher and one-time Redwood City resident, will be present at the session, which was arranged by State Sen. Harry Parkman.

2 LETTERS OF INTEREST IN REDWOOD CITY

1 DEAR JOHNS-MANVILLE REDWOOD CITY PLANT—

I pass you every day. I got to talking with a neighbor about you and your company, and we wonder how you got started. It is just curiosity, but do you mind telling a couple of your neighbors something about yourself?

GEORGE A. CITIZEN

2 Dear George

I don't mind a bit.

In fact, your interest pleases me and you had better watch out or I'll talk my head off.

Two men and a clothes wringer in a New York City basement were the start of my company.

And two other men, August Fitger and P. S. Anneke, Duluth brewers and confectioners, were the start of the west coast operations. In 1912, they took over the Lompoc quarries and began operating the property as the Kieselguhr Company of America—kieselguhr being the name first used for diatomaceous earth in Germany. In 1916 they changed the name to the Celite Company.

Diatomaceous earth is composed of the microscopic fossils of diatoms, tiny sea plants that died millions of years ago and sank to the bottom of the sea that once covered most of Santa Barbara county.

In 1928, Johns-Manville acquired the Celite Company and the 100,000,000-ton, 5,000,-acre deposit of diatomaceous earth at White Hills, the largest yet discovered. It is 1,400 feet thick.

I came into the J-M organization at the same time. I make 85% magnesia blocks, lagging and pipe insulation and 85% magnesia cement.

Because the diatom can withstand temperatures as high as 2500° Fahrenheit, the Johns-Manville operation at Lompoc, aided by research and enterprise, has turned the once barren "Celite Deposit" into the largest industry in Santa Barbara county. In addition, I have fellow plants at Pittsburg, Los Angeles and a new one has been started at Watson.

All of this sprang from the two men and a clothes wringer in the New York City basement. One of the men was H. W. Johns and he had the idea that he could make a new fireproof roofing material by putting jute, burlap and wool-felt and pitch and manila paper and asbestos THROUGH A CLOTHES WRINGER and pressing it into sheets.

He got a man named W. W. Hanold to turn the wringer, Mr. Johns poured while Mr. Hanold turned. (Mr. Hanold died less than a year ago after having been with the company more than 64 years.)

People began to hear of this new fireproof roofing and they came to buy it at the little shop where it was made. Sometimes the stock piled up. Then Mr. Johns and Mr. Hanold had to go out and hunt customers. That's where LABOR became BUSINESS.

You see—as more roof customers came—Mr. Johns had to have something better than a clothes wringer with which to make his roofing. Machinery. So he had to get some people to put in some money to buy equipment to make the roofing that other people wanted. That's what is called CAPITAL.

And he had to get more men to help him and Mr. Hanold. That's called LABOR.

Later new plants had to be established in various parts of the country, to make other products and that's when I joined the company.

The fireproof roofing business had grown into insulating materials for industry and for homes, brake linings for automobiles, many new types of building materials to make homes, industrial and commercial buildings safer, more attractive and less expensive to maintain.

Today I am a part of a great national organization which grew out of Mr. Johns' clothes wringer. I have fellow plants in 10 other cities in the United States. Five plants are in California. I have salesmen all over the world. Everything these other plants do is helpful to me here in Redwood City.

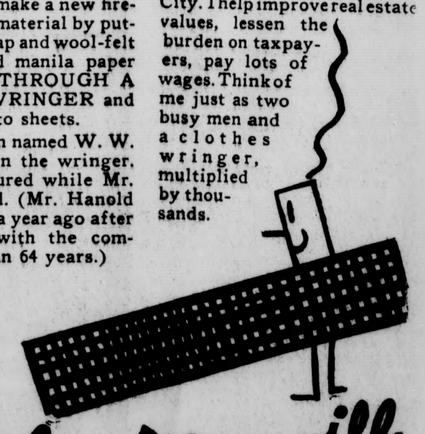
I have no apologies to make because I have grown larger and somewhat efficient, and because my company has replaced Mr. Johns' clothes wringer with millions of dollars worth of costly, modern machinery, and Mr. Johns' helper with thousands of other helpers. That is just how things grow.

I try to be a fine thing in Redwood City.

I try to be a fine thing for the workmen who help me hum.

I'm no good to anybody unless I'm busy.

When I'm busy as a bee, I help retail trade in Redwood City. I help improve real estate values, lessen the burden on taxpayers, pay lots of wages. Think of me just as two busy men and a clothes wringer, multiplied by thousands.



-Johns-Manville Redwood City Plant

Storms Hinder, Help Agriculture

Wind, rain and erosion proved a mixed blessing to San Mateo County agriculturalists, according to Max J. Leonard, agricultural commissioners, who has completed a survey of storm damage to crops.

Interrupted transportation from other sections, plus crop damage in flooded areas, so increased the demand for San Mateo County produce that many farmers have sold all of their crops at favorable prices.

On the other side of the ledger, Leonard reports, is loss of about 100 acres of the pea crop from water damage, plus additional losses from erosion. While none of the washes was large in extent, the aggregate of small losses will be large, he says.

PROPOSED COUNTY FOOD LAW WINS HEALTH BOARD FAVOR

Unification of Peninsula Health Bureaus Also Gains Approval

On its first official preview, the proposed county food ordinance won unaminous support Tuesday from the San Mateo County Board of Health and Welfare. The board recommended that Dr. Charles C. Gans, health director, take all necessary steps to have the ordinance, which would regulate every food-handling establishment in the unincorporated area, adopted by the board of supervisors.

The board also endorsed the proposal to unify city health departments under the county department, and recommended formation of a citizens' advisory committee to sponsor the project.

Present at the meeting, held at Community Hospital, were Louis Goekin, president of the board; R. E. Longwell, Dr. N. D. Morrison, Dr. Will Rebec, Dr. Gans and James Packwood, who acted as secretary.

The food ordinance is patterned after modern public health setups. It would supplant the bakery ordinance, now in effect, by extending similar provisions to hotels, cafes, bars, groceries, soda fountains and soft drink parlors, he explained.

Each food handling establishment, of which there are 200 in the unincorporated areas alone, would pay a fee of $5 per annum to operate. This fee would cover costs of inspection to insure proper screening, covering, preparation, and handling of foods. Each employe would be required to undergo an annual physical examination to prevent disease carriers from handling food, Dr. Gans said.

The board authorized formation of a committee of 20 to further the project of unifying all health departments in the county.

Clean-up Move Extension Urged Over Peninsula

Extension of the "Clean Up During 1938" campaign now under way in Redwood City to all parts of the Peninsula was announced today as an objective of Palo Alto-San Mateo Chapter, Painting and Decorating Contractors of America.

Revealing that at a meeting in Belmont Tuesday indorsement had been given to the local move, officers of the organization said that steps were also taken to aid the extension of the campaign to all cities and communities on the Peninsula.

"It was pointed out by L. E. Doolittle of Redwood City that many thousands of visitors who attend the World's Fair in 1939 will also visit the Peninsula," Secty. Floyd Baker reported, "and that in preparation for this event, all eyesores and shabbiness should be eliminated by thorough housecleaning and beautifying. Such a program, continued through the present year, would also prove beneficial in relieving unemployment."

Committees were appointed to contact the various chambers of commerce and city councils on the Peninsula, as well as county supervisors. On the San Mateo-Burlingame committee are W. J. Dougherty, R. L. Spencer and Alfred Sorensen; Redwood City, Doolittle and L. B. Winiger; Palo Alto, Secretary Baker, O. R. North and R. S. Malmgren; Mountain View, Otto Freeborn and Fred Sinz.

The executive board was given authority to proceed with the incorporation of the chapter as a non-profit concern, a move held necessary because of the growth and increasing interests of the chapter, Baker reported.

Chapter President T. W. von Hacht, who is a member of the State Organization Committee, and a group from various parts of the Peninsula will attend a "Booster" meeting in San Jose Friday night. This meeting will be addressed by State President Carl Friberg of Oakland, who is planning to visit the local chapter Apr. 4 when an additional group of contractors will be accepted as members.

The necessary application form may be obtained from the secretary Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Postoffice, Palo Alto, or from the manager, 12th U. S. Civil Service District, Room 119, Federal Office Building, San Francisco.

Drivers Exonerated In Traffic Death

In one of three inquests conducted in Redwood City Tuesday, drivers of two cars which struck and killed Duncan M. MacVean, 65, on Bayshore Hwy. near Palo Alto Feb. 11, were exonerated.

MacVean was struck in blinding rain shortly after 8 p.m. by cars driven by Dan O'Neill, 28, Burlingame, and Michael Murphy, San Francisco. The jury determined that the accident was unavoidable, and found that MacVean died of a crushed skull and other injuries.

An open verdict was returned in the death of Guiseppi Manfredi, Palo Alto stonemason who was struck by a car driven by Arthur E. Grounds on El Camino Real near the Santa Clara County line. The jury found that Manfredi died of a broken neck, but placed no blame for the accident.

Death of Cornelius T. Maloney, Menlo Park contractor who was struck by a train at Oak Grove Ave. crossing Feb. 28, was accidental, the jury found.

Better Light HELPS KEEP EYES RIGHT!

PEOPLE say modern lighting that is "easy on the eyes" makes the eyes feel better . . . And they are right . . . Good lighting brings out the beauty of the home furnishings . . . It aids personal beauty, too.

Light that is glaring brightness or that is dim and gloomy makes hard work of seeing. It causes squints and frowns and scowls and brings on many premature wrinkles and face-lines.

Good, modern lighting merely means the right kind of light, and the right amount of light where you read or sew or use your eyes. And you can have it easily, quickly, inexpensively. A Home Lighting Recommendation chart made out for your home will fit lighting to serve the exact seeing-needs in your home. This is a free service and there is no obligation. Hundreds are taking advantage of this service. Why not you?
